Living to Please God

The spiritual development of our children at Lendy Park has a high priority. To this end, we have been working with the theme, "Living to please God". One surprising outcome of this thrust, for me at least, is that it needs to be a intention to do things to please God. Otherwise, at the end of the week, you realise the week has gone and you have not lived for God. Therefore we have 'Pleasing God' walls in all the classrooms where the children, at the end of the week, write one thing that they have done to please God. This is done in the hopes of being more intentional in our desire to please God. After half term, we will do it at the start of the week with the idea, "What will I do to please God this week?"

The Lendy Values

Help us to foster these values in your children.
